5 mins	Pre-reading activity	The historical, social and cultural context is very important to understand for this novel. Atwood has said that everything that happens in the text has actually happened in history! They can either add their ideas to a Word or Google document, write down the information in their notebooks or add them to a presentation. Once this activity is completed, it is important for students to share their feedback with the class during a class discussion.	What is speculative fiction? Societies that have practiced polygamy. Examples of patriarchal societies in history. Religious conservatism in 1980's America. Biblical references: The story of Jacob, Rachel, and Leah. The second wave feminist movement of the 1980s. The society of the Puritans in New England. Birth control and fertility issues in Romania under President Ceausescu Environmental factors that may impact fertility	Duo or trio Presentation to the whole class

Have students create a diagram to illustrate the social hierarchy in the text which should include the following categories: Commanders, Handmaids, Eyes, Martha's, Wives, Economies, UnWomen, Angels, Aunts, and Guardians. The diagram should have the most powerful at the top and the least powerful at the bottom and include a brief explanation of the role of each group and any color which is associated with them.	Diagram - hierarchy, printed for every duo Presentation: Hierarchy in The Handmaids Tale by Kristen Fader (prezi.com)	presentation
		Then, focus on women's roles. In the Republic of Gilead, women are stratified: the Wives run the households; the Handmaids bear the children for the Wives; the Marthas are housemaids; the Aunts train and keep order over the Handmaids. Each role centers itself around the reproduction cycle of the Handmaid. Women are seen as vessels for bearing children; those who willingly gave this duty up were sent off to hard labor in the Colonies as Unwomen. Their very womanhood was stripped from them once they could not bear children.	What are women reduced to? Where are their spheres of influence? What about their freedom of will? How would you describe the relationships between: The commander and Offred? The commander and his wife? Serena Joy (wife) and Offred?

Any male practice which inhibits reproduction is severely punished, so that male doctors who formerly practised abortion, or homosexuals, or Roman Catholic priests (as well as nuns) who took vows of chastity are all executed and their bodies hung on the Wall. Pornography, sexual violence and infidelity are all outlawed, but so is falling in love. Have a discussion with the students on the following topics:
